A 20/20 Packet by Euan McCubbin

Forward:

“Sex... is something you will statistically have very little of if you are of the demographic interested in this quirkily vibrant intersextion of Youtube and quizbowl. The love of the sport and community which fosters, not simple matters of the flesh, is what brings us here together today. Here live in the heart of Seattle quizbowl, I present 2024’s [E]utube packet i have no idea how to write a foreword”

– Benjamin Shi

Notes (probably worth reading if you want to read this packet): In this packet the word “youtuber” refers to one specific person, while channel refers to the channel. Italicized phrases are always specific youtube videos. The wording for many questions is relatively repetitive, and can be jank at times, alas my prose is mid and editing skills mediocre, sorry about that. The difficulty scaling for many questions varies wildly, both due to the intended audience’s knowledge (UW Quizbowl) and my own. There are a couple of impressions and one physical clue in the packet, so make sure to watch the required watching to be prepared for those.

Required Watching (required for reading, there are spoilers for the packet)

You only need to watch the 5~ seconds after the time stamp.

P.S. (feel free to ignore): I wrote this packet because I watch too many youtube videos. While I like to think that this packet does a pretty good job of covering a wide swath of Youtube it is still heavily biased towards content that I like and think is worth watching. There may at some point be a playlist of every youtube video referenced in this packet (there are about 220) but alas I have sunk too much time into this as is. This packet will likely not contain all of your favorite youtubers, but will hopefully at least have a couple. If you have any content suggestions for future Eutube packets, comments or concerns, feel free to email me at leggomyeggokeggo@gmail.com.

Special thanks to Issac [Redacted] and Callum [Redacted] as well as UW Quizbowl for helping me play test.
